HOW TONY ALLEN DIED. An Arkansas Poisoning Case which will Cost a Pair of Black Borgias Their Lives.

of the Murdered Man by Memphis Chemists.

At Arkansas City, Desha county, Arkansas, about the first of the month, a case of suspicion of poisoning occurred that attracted the attention of the authorities. The circumstances of the case were as follows: Coroner R. Dedman held an inquest on the body of a negro man named Allen, believed to have been poisoned with strychnine, and several persons were arrested on suspicion of committing the murder. The facts showed that the colored man had been given some coffee to drink, and in a few minutes was taken to drink, and in a few minutes was taker with spasms in the stomach, rigors and con with spasms in the stomach, rigors and con-vulsions, and died suddenly in great agony. The symptoms indicated poisoning with strychnine. The stomach of the dead man was taken out by Dr. G. E. Procise, who is also marshal of the town, and brought to this city to be analysed by Messrs, Fahlen & Kleinschmidt, druggists and chemists on Beale street, corner of Second. These gentle-men have been at work for several days making the processary chemical tests to dismaking the necessary chemical tests to dis-cover the organic poison known as strych-nine, with a view to present the result of the investigation as evidence on the trial of the arrested and suspected parties at Arkansas Cite

THE SCIENTIFIC TESTS. The memoranda of the case as kept b Messrs. Fahlen & Kleinschmidt, showing th analysis of the stomach of the deceased Ton Allen, are of a very interesting character and are as follows: "On Thursday, Januar and are as follows: "On Thursday, January 13, 1881, a sealed package was handed to u by Dr. G. E. Procise, said to contain the stomach of one Tony Allen, deceased, who according to the statement of Dr. Procise had died suddenly with every symptom o strychnia poisoning, this poison having more over been found in the house of the de several years. The little actives of the spire the audience with a warm feeling, and all she does is indorsed, no matter how many all she does is indorsed, no matter how many 17th, we received our final instructions, at all she does is indorsed, no matter how many dramatic rules may be violated. She has many imitators, but while they may excel her in certain specialties, they are not Lotta. None but herself can be her paragon. She was very well supported last night by Mr. Wallis, as "Grandfather Treat;" Mr. Bradshaw, as "Dick Swiveller;" Mr. Anderson, as "Quilp;" Mr. Bradley, as "Sampson Brass," and by the other members of the company. stomach was spread out upon a clean glass plate and carefully examined. A considerable number of small white particles were interspersed over the surface. About two dozen of these were carefully picked out and line to herself and so absurdly comical. A packed house, composed of the clite of the city, and each member of it delighted with bottle and about eight ounces of strong al-bottle and about eight ounces of strong alcohol and twenty-five grains of tartaric acid added to it, the whole set aside over night personal magnetism to a high degree. The matinee, commencing at 1 o'clock to-day, when Zip, or Point Lynde Light, will be the attraction, will close the engagement of the and thirteen gave purple discolorations more or less distinct. The next morning the liquid company, who leave on the 5 o'clock train for was poured out and drained off the stomach. New Orleans. gested for about an hour with alcohol and tartaric acid, the whole transferred to a strainer and thoroughly expressed. The stomach was then again digested with strong alcohol for nearly an hour, again strained and expressed and the stomach again for the fourth time treated with strong alcohol and set aside over night. The acid alcoholic solutions obtained according to the above processes were set aside over night and filtered the following morning, the filter being washed first with the alcohol contained in the stomach an finally with strong alcohol. The filtered alc holic solution was now clear and of a light brown color. The acid alcoholic solution was evaporated and washed with ether repeatedly. The small amount of liquid remaining was neutralized by bicarbonate of soda and then treated with chloroform and ether; and that solution contained the alkaloid strychnia, which was evaporated to dryness, this giving the quantity of poison presen in the stomach." The tests above made de reloped the fact that strychnia poison was ound in the stomach sufficient to destroy life. t is usual to add to the experiments, which will be done to-day, by giving a live pigeon or rabbit a portion of the ingredient found as analyzed, when the death of the animal will of course follow, with all the symptoms of ing similar to those which developed when the man Tony Allen swallowed the tal draught of poisoned coffee. A Business Man's Opinion. C. B.
